

Thirteen year old Duncan Adams, with her mother and friends, visited the Kiura home in 1997 and gave the family food, $50, and clothes because they were in great need. She went to be with our Lord two weeks later, but left $327.65 that she had earned through selfless acts for the poor. When her parents brought the money to the family, the Lord laid on their hearts that they should not use Duncan's life seed, but to invest it in helping the poor. The money started a goats project for the poor in Kenya because goats are the basic livelihood of 60% of the poor in the rural areas. Duncan's selfless acts still speak to us to help the poor. The seed has grown to over $15000.
